

Complete feed for breeding mares and foals

Suitable for pregnant and lactating mares as well as young growing horses from 3 months of age.

NRM Evolve provides energy, protein, vitamins and minerals required during pregnancy and lactation in a convenient nut-form, ideal to prevent wastage when feeding in bins or from the ground.

A safe, full feed, Evolve provides additional calories to assist with maintenance of optimum body condition.

This low glycemic feed is formulated to encourage sound skeletal development in young growing horses. Research undertaken by KER has indicated a significant benefit in providing growing horses with a supplementary feed that has a low glycemic index, relative to conventional grain mixes.

Energy is derived from a combination of fats, cooked grains and digestible fibre.
